The Spartanburg County Adult Education, with whom ACHIEVE partners, reopened its center for GED exam testing during the last few weeks of May. They are adhering to strict COVID-19 standards during testing.

As prior JIT reports have stated, ACHIEVE continued to keep participants engaged throughout March, April and May with online classes, instructor assistance and delivering packets (sanitized). Several participants returned to the class in late May (when the SC Works center reopened) on an individual basis to take the GED Ready while following Center standards. With this, one completed and received his GED exam. Throughout June, Adult Ed is offering GED exams, so ACHIEVE continues to work with the most GED ready participants to get them prepared for June GED exams.

ACHIEVE has worked a schedule to bring in a few participants each day and practice physical distancing and wearing masks beginning June 1. Participants are picked one each and sit in the back of the van.
